MORE PREMIUMS FOR CORN.

A. G. Newell & Son Will Give $100 in Prizes.

The following is the offer made to the farmers of the corn show in Carthage recently by J. P. Newell:

"In order to contain the interest manifested by Jasper County Farmers in quantity of corn they can produce on Jasper County Farms, we have agreed to give a prize of $100 for the best two ears of corn exhibited at our show on Saturday, November 7th. The corn can be sent at our office at any time prior to 12 o'clock Saturday, November 7th, with the name and address of the exhibitor. This corn will be judged by an impartial committee at 1:30 p.m. on that day and the winner of the prize will be paid in cash. All corn exhibited is to be the property of A. G. Newell & Son and will be exhibited by them in their room at the fair, subject to continue a permanent exhibition.

"If sufficient interest is manifested in this contest to warrant it, we will have a like contest on each Saturday during the remainder of the year.

"At the early October Christmas, we will have the entire exhibit judged as a sweepstakes, and the exhibitor of the corn to receive the winning end of the contest will receive a silver presentation of $25. This means that we will pay out in premiums on corn between now and the first of the year, $100.

"We trust that sufficient interest will be manifested in the first contest on November 7th, to justify us in making these contests a weekly feature. It is not necessary for the exhibitor to be in Carthage on the day the corn is judged, to enter leave his exhibit for any contest at the office at any time between Monday and Saturday noon of the week in which he enters. Any man can enter as many contests as he desires.

A WHEAT PRIZE.

"Barney Parker of Union township is exhibiting in our exhibition room a half bushel of wheat which tests 65 pounds to the bushel. If, at any of these contests, anyone can produce a half bushel of wheat that will test stronger than this we will pay him $5 for the same."

Stepped Against A Hot Stove.

A child of Mrs. Geo. T. Benson, when getting his usual Saturday night bath, stepped back against a hot stove which burned him severely. The child was in great agony and his mother could do nothing to pacify him. Remembering that she had a bottle of chamberlain's Pain Balm in the house, she thought she would try it. In less than half an hour after applying it the child was quiet and asleep, and in less than two weeks was well. Mrs. Benson is a well known resident of Kellar, Va. Pain Balm is an antiseptic liniment and especially valuable for burns, cuts, bruises and sprains. For sale by Webb Bros.

SUES A CARTHAGE MAN.

D. K. Baerge Asks Damages From J. F. Boyd.

Dan. K. Baerge of this city through his attorney, D. M. Roper, has filed suit against J. F. Boyd, owner of the building occupied by the Fair store at Carthage, asking damages in the sum of $2,000 for injuries received in falling through the roof of the awning at the building last June.

Baerge, who is a painter, was employed to paint the roof and awning at the Fair store. The roof of the awning is of galvanized iron and has been in place for many years so that it had become rusted. While Baerge was walking on this roof the iron gave way with him and he was precipitated to the sidewalk, a distance of about twelve feet. He sustained severe injuries, consisting of both arms being broken. He was confined to his bed for several months and, the petition states, he will never regain sufficient strength for him to use a paint brush.

Carl Lewenstein Wins

Another interesting case filed is that of Carl Lewenstein, of near Jasper, against the Missouri Pacific Railway company. Mr. Lewenstein alleges that while hauling hay to load into a car the wheels on one side of his wagon dropped into a ditch at the side of the track, which defendants had negligently allowed to remain, and the load of hay was turned over. Plaintiff declares he was thrown violently to the ground and so badly injured that he was confined to his bed for a long time. He asks $5,000 damages.

THE DRAG IN TOWN.

A Lamar Man Uses It In That City.

Judge William Allen, of Lamar, is deserving of a good deal of credit for his enterprising spirit. He has just completed doing some street work in this city which has done as much good for the city's thoroughfares as any one piece of work done in a long while, and every cent of the expense he bore himself.

Judge Allen has manifested great interest in the recent movement of dragging roads. He set about a few days ago to have drag constructed according to his own views and ideas. The drag which he had made, is similar in a general way, to the split log drag but instead of split log being used, large pieces of square cornered hickory poles. The front pole wears a steel shear on the bottom edge, which serves to shave off the knobs and lumps in the road. A tongue is bolted in the drag, extending through both pieces, and may be so adjusted as to pull the drag either squarely forward, or in an angling direction.

Judge Allen employed a man last Thursday to take his team and put in a day's work with the new drag. The two blocks of street, running east and west, along the south side of Judge Allen's residence place was first dragged. The gravel was all carried from the outer edges of the street and deposited in the center, all bumps and rough places were cut down and all low places were filled up. In short, the street, which was very rough and irregular, is now as smooth and pretty as a race track. The work of dragging these two blocks and putting the street in first class condition required just thirty minutes time.

The street along the north side of Mrs. S. D. Cox's residence, the one along the north side of G. L. Crenshaw's place, the south end of Walnut street, near P. C. Gilmore's place and the south end of Cherry street, all of which sections of streets were in bad condition, were dragged by Judge Allen's new drag.

The work proved successful in every event and these streets are now in magnificent condition.—Lamar Democrat.
